PROFILE

I am a dedicated and detail-oriented Senior Test Engineer with a robust background in front-end web development. With years of experience in Quality Assurance (QA) and a deep understanding of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, I bridge the gap between ensuring software quality and enhancing user experience. Throughout my career, I have been committed to delivering high-quality, bug-free software solutions. This unique combination of skills enables me to provide insightful feedback and contribute to the creation of seamless, user-friendly interfaces.
